

De-colonizing Cold War Effects Workshop 1

October 4
Thursday
12-2pm

International Politics, Anglophone Media, and the Case of the Feminist Five

Speaker / Prof. Dusica Ristivojević

(Department of Philosophy, History,
Culture & Art Studies University of Helsinki)

Chaired by Ding Naifei

(Professor, Center for the Study of Sexualities, NCU)

Please join us for the opportunity to hear Prof. Dusica Ristivojević talk on “How to write in 2018 about what happened in 2015.” Prof. Ristivojević will address issues of how to reconcile an analysis of (feminist) social activism in China informed by postcolonial/decolonial approaches with rapidly changing global geopolitical and ideological realities and China’s inner politics.

Room A116, Liberal Arts Building I, NCU

If you are able to attend, please register with Ms. Jessica Shen (ncu33228@ncu.edu.tw) by October 1, 2018. We will circulate the reading (paper copy only) and provide a lunch box for those who have registered.

Department of Philosophy, History,
Culture & Art Studies University of Helsinki

Dusica Ristivojević

