About the WWC

The Women's Welcoming Committee is a Seattle-based group organized to assist women of any sexual orientation who are looking for information about Bondage and/or Discipline, Dominance/submission, Sado-masochism, Power Exchange, Trust Games, Role Playing and other subjects which fall loosely under the heading of BDSM and Leather. We share our experiences, knowledge and support, and talk about safety precautions, expectations and etiquette, as well as basic terminology.

As women, we can be especially vulnerable when taking our first steps towards getting our desires met. We may find it hard to ask for what we want, especially if we have been made to feel that it's wrong. We can find reassurance and comfort in knowing that other women share our feelings and concerns, and in finding words for what we are experiencing. The WWC may help you to know what to expect in your first contacts with potential play partners, and could help you avoid common mistakes.

The WWC is not a recruiting organization. You don't get a toaster oven for bringing a friend, just her eternal gratitude. We do try to make our meetings as safe a space for new people as we can. Attendees do not have to identify themselves, or participate in any way that makes them feel uncomfortable -- just sitting and listening is fine.

If you have friends who might benefit from this kind of forum, please feel free to forward this information on to them. Specific questions about the WWC may be emailed to johonna@jetcity.com.
